Lehigh County’s Unsung Hero Event Rescheduled

Every May, the Administration for Community Living (ACL) leads our nation’s observance of Older Americans Month. Because of COVID-19 this year’s event has been rescheduled.

This year’s celebration is to encourage and celebrate countless contributions that older adults make to our communities. Their time, experience, and talents benefit family, peers, and neighbors every day. It highlights the difference everyone can make—in the lives of older adults, in support of caregivers, and to strengthen communities.

Lehigh County Aging and Adult Services will be celebrating with its 20th Annual Unsung Hero event. This annual tradition celebrates older adults whose community has been enhanced through their active engagement, volunteerism, and service to others.

The event has been rescheduled to Tuesday, October 13, 2020 at Fellowship Community, Zentz Community Building.

Lehigh County works to reduce social isolation during COVID-19

Lehigh County Aging and Adult Services began a friendly phone call program in April for elderly individuals struggling with loneliness and social isolation during the COVID-19 crisis. It provided social support consultations and information on resources. The case worker was consistent throughout the weeks maintaining a steady relationship with the individual and understanding their current situation. About 45 older adults have asked to receive phone calls and the case worker makes about 20 calls per day.

“I spoke to R.B., wife of consumer, for about an hour. She expressed how frustrated and lonely she’s felt being the sole caregiver of her husband with dementia. She said all she really needed was to have a conversation with someone. She thanked me and said she looked forward to the next time I called.”

“S.L. was a consumer whose fridge broke down. I gave her a call the same day and spoke to her for over an hour. She explained her worry about COVID-19 and the fear to step outside her house. She told me she had no family in the area and no one who could go and get groceries for her. We signed her up for home delivered meals and provided shelf-stable meals the following day. She was very happy and grateful and agreed to receive weekly calls looking forward to have someone to speak to each week.”

“I spoke to S.C. today. She lost her husband about a month ago and said she looked forward to our calls. We spoke for over an hour and I believe our calls make her feel a bit more hopeful.”
Helping Others Stay Busy During this Difficult Time

Cedar View Apartments kept busy during the pandemic by having activities throughout the past few months. Anne Milne, Cedar View Senior Center Operator, developed a “Quarantine Craft Club” for those who were interested.

Activities ranged from craft activities delivered with their meals, to a scavenger hunt outside noting where certain items were placed, and an “I Spy” game encouraging residents to sit outside and look around. Residents completed each activity on their own and the crafts were hung on their doors for all to see.

What a great way to stay involved and get creative while keeping busy during this time.

Agency Delivers Extra Meals During the Pandemic

Lehigh County Aging and Adult Services was able to deliver COVID meals to any consumer who expressed a need. These extra meals allowed Lehigh County seniors to stay home and reduce their risk of COVID-19 by not having to go out for food. Many of these meals were delivered by Senior Center staff and agency staff.

In addition to these meals, the agency was able to purchase additional meals from Meals on Wheels allowing current consumers to receive two meals a day reducing the need to go out to the store. 20,913 COVID meals were delivered during this time.
