INCOME AND NET WORTH LIMITATIONS

If eligible, your pension benefit is the difference between your “countable” income and the annual pension limit set by Congress. VA generally pays this difference in 12 equal monthly payments.

Countable income. Includes income from most sources as well as from any eligible dependents. It generally includes earnings, disability and retirement payments, interest and dividend payments from annuities, and net income from farming or a business. Some expenses, such as unreimbursed medical expenses, may reduce your countable income.

Net worth. Includes assets such as bank accounts, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, annuities, and any property other than your residence and a reasonable lot area. You should report all of your net worth. VA will determine whether your assets are of a sufficiently large amount that you could live off of them for a reasonable period of time.

Yearly Income. Your yearly family income must be less than the amount set by Congress to qualify for the Veterans or Survivors’ Pension benefit.

Entitlement to a VA Pension or VA Pension with Aid & Attendance is determined by financial need based on combined income and assets which for 2022 may not exceed $138,489 after deducting qualifying, non-reimbursed medical expenses such as health care premiums and the cost of nursing home care, qualified senior living/personal care, or in-home care services.

After deducting qualifying unreimbursed medical expenses, Countable Income cannot exceed...
	Pension Only	With Aid & Attendance
Veteran Only	$14,753	$24,610
Un-Remarried Surviving Spouse	$9,896	$15,816

If I am already receiving monthly payments for a service-connected disability, can I also receive a VA pension?

You cannot receive a VA non-service-connected pension and service-connected disability compensation at the same time. However, if you apply for a pension benefit and are awarded payments, VA will pay you whichever benefit is greater.

Can I reapply for pension benefits if I do not initially qualify?

Yes, you may reapply at any time if your countable income is below the yearly limit (which may occur after deducting unreimbursed medical expenses from the 12 month period after VA received your claim), or if you were denied because you were not rated as permanently and totally disabled but your disabilities have become worse.

I believe that I'm eligible for the VA Pension program. What's my next step?

Contact us (or your county's VA office) at 610-782-3295 to discuss details. During that phone call, we will review the requirements with you and also discuss other details of the program. If it appears that you qualify, we will provide you with a checklist of items needed to apply such as proof of military service, financial information, etc. and also several forms which need to be completed prior to scheduling an in-person meeting to complete the application process.

Is there any cost to me or my family for assistance in applying for VA benefits?

There is never a charge for this service or any other service provided by your county veterans affairs office. As a matter of fact, in almost all cases, it is illegal to charge a fee to assist someone to apply for veteran's benefits. Every county veterans office is staffed with VA-accredited Veteran Service Officers (VSOs) who are trained and experienced to provide assistance.
